I would first like to express my deepest appreciation to Professor Giudice and Professor Waring for their unwavering support throughout this past school year. They have been tremendously helpful in bringing this edition of The Oracle to fruition, and in doing so, they have provided a platform for students to express their voices and take part in academic dialogues that reach beyond the classroom. Moreover, I would like to extend my gratitude to York University's Philosophy Department for allowing the club to use its space and resources for events.

My appreciation also goes to The Canadian Journal of Philosophy for their generous grant, which has helped the club reconvene The Oracle's conference for the first time since 2019. Thank you for believing in us.

This journal would not work without the community's participation, and I'm extremely grateful to all who were involved. To the writers, whether you were published or not, thank you for having the courage to submit. To the editors, thank you for your time. I want each one of you to know that you have been an integral part of bringing The Oracle to life, and that is something that the club and I will always be grateful for.

Special thanks go to this year's club executives: Parmeet Singh, Isabella Ciaravino, Isabella Dearlove, Yasaman Zavar, and, last but not least, our wonderful president, Syeda Gul Zahra. The club's success this past school year is a direct result of your dedication and commitment.

Lastly, I want to thank my mother, Nancy Girgis, for her ongoing support. And, to my father, Dr. Gamal Fouad Habib—I can't begin to thank you enough for everything you did for me. You are forever missed.

Sincerely,
Micheal Habib
