

Twin Souls

Free Verse by Karen G. Bishop

i'm in love now
and she is fine
not physically
her insides are pure

cuz' she knows who she is

i'm in love with her ability to strive
after hardship
i've watched her growth

we met a few years ago
in passing
i was too young
we didn't talk much
i wasn't ready for someone like her

she scared me
she was smart
intelligent
confident

THE ORACLE

she learned
to hold back
analyze, assess
the inner being of every individual
she connected with

she stopped the love train if love wasn't returned

she being comfortable
in her skin
gave me butterflies

as we lay
I asked
why she was content with life
and her being

she said...

TWIN SOULS

i genuinely loved, those who didn't genuinely love me

i've fed individual souls, nurtured their bodies who struggled to do the same i've mended hearts with my twin-soul 10,000 times over

i've learned

there is a beauty in wisdom beauty to life
the beauty to learn, is my ability to remember remember that, we are souls walking a path, with little guidance having to maneuver

among the living and the dead inside

we are all
finding our way

and I cried...

that woman, i fell in love with
is me, the new me,
the healed me, the conscious me the growth of me, kind to myself me the acceptance of me

i am in love
